Next Future Leaders Program in 2012

The next intake for the wine industry's successful Future Leaders program will be in 2012.

The program partners – the Winemakers' Federation of Australia, Wine Australia, Wine Grape Growers' Australia, and the Grape and Wine Research and Development Corporation – will devote 2011 to expanding the industry involvement of the first 60 graduates.

They also seek graduate input into how to ensure the program stays fresh and relevant to the needs of future participants and the industry as a whole

Expressions of interest for the 2012 intake will be sought in early November 2011.
